

TRUNKS, SUNDRIES, BOXES, AND VALISES.

GREAT BARGAINS IN TRUNKS AT

J. H. McCleary's
NATIONAL TRUNK EMPORIUM,
Corner Main and Fourth sts., Louisville, Ky.

I would respectfully invite the attention of merchants and others visiting the city to my large and elegant assortment of TRUNKS, which I am prepared to offer at lower prices than any other establishment in the city. My stock embraces a greater variety of Trunks than is kept by any other house in the Western country. Many of the styles are entirely new and cannot fail to please those in want of a Trunk both as regards price and quality. The many advantages which I possess over other houses in the city, such as manufacturing my own boxes, finishing my own leather, importing my own material, &c., enable me to offer my trunks at lower prices than any other establishment either in this city or Cincinnati. Merchants and others will be consulting their own interests by giving me a call before making their purchases. Orders promptly attended to. [may 26 & w&w&db1]

EVENING BULLETIN.

MORE ABOUT MRS. CUNNINGHAM.—Mrs. Cunningham kept up the delusion admirably, being restless at times, groaning, occasionally, and asking about every ten minutes to have her forehead cooled with ice-water. She was visited in the forenoon by her counsel, Judge Dean. Mr. Clinton, another of her counsel, did not visit her. Her other lawyer, Mr. Stafford, was for half an hour in consultation with her. What took place at these interviews we are not able to report, of course, as the talking was done, mainly, in whispers. Augusta Cunningham is at present in the country, but Helen and her youngest sister are at home. The two boys were sent to school some months ago. The family is, therefore, not large, there being no boarders in the house.

Under the regulations of Captain Dilkes, who has charge of the premises, and who has six policemen detailed to watch them, no person is allowed to leave or enter with the exception of the lawyers above named and a physician, Dr. Isaac Smith, who was sent yesterday, for the District Attorney, to minister to the lady in her peculiar condition.

Mrs. Cunningham pleaded, yesterday, at numerous intervals, that her "dear baby," her "legal baby," her "poor murdered doctor's baby" might be brought to her. "Why have they taken my baby from me?" she demanded. Then she would half raise herself in bed and protest that never was a woman so ill-treated before. She was very anxious to see the newspapers, but none were allowed to be brought inside the house.

How Mrs. Cunningham Took Her Tea.—We understand that Mr. Clinton "washes his hands" of Mrs. Cunningham altogether. At least, he is reported to have so expressed himself yesterday morning, in the Court of General Sessions. He did not call at No. 31 Bond street, but went out of town at an early hour. We will not vouch for the fact, but the rumor, among the legal profession, is that the fees of Messrs. Clinton and Dean were to be derived from the estate of Dr. Burdell, when Mrs. Cunningham entered into possession.

From the affidavit of the physician who procured the child at the Bellevue Hospital for the purpose of entrapping Mrs. Cunningham, it appears that he marked the child with lunar caustic, behind each ear and under each arm, and that he tied about the umbilical cord a minute edging of a pocket handkerchief.
